

BRODHEAD, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Born, to the wife of Mr. Jesse Roberts, a fine girl.

—Miss Sallie Russell is now with Mrs. J. R. Case in the mantle making business. Mr. and Mrs. Woodard are visiting relatives in Rowland.

—Mrs. Dr. J. M. Clark spent a few days in Livingston last week. Mr. Wm. Cable, of the Freedom neighborhood, has moved to Livingston.

—A. J. Pike will have a colt show in Brodhead the 25th of this month at 10 A. M. and he asks all who wish to see the best lot of Pat Denmarks ever shown in this county to attend and every citizen who has one of that thoroughbred family will bring it along.

—Mr. James Pige, of Cortin, called on one of our young belles this week. Mr. R. Hamon left for Jellico Tuesday. Mrs. B. R. Wilcott will give a strawberry supper at her hotel on the night of the 25th inst. Mr. E. Walden returned Sunday night from Winchester.

—Miss Robert Lee Yakey visited Crab Orchard friends last week. Mr. Samuel Hysinger was here Sunday. Mrs. Torpin, of Berea, who has been visiting her daughters here, Mrs. J. W. Tate and Mrs. A. E. Albright, returned home last Sunday. Mr. R. L. Davidson, Brodhead's dentist, spent a few days here this week practicing his profession. Mr. Vic Owens has been among us again and we know a few girls who always seem to be happy when he comes. Bro. Pike filled his appointment with his new church at Buckeye Saturday and Sunday and he goes to Gilead church in Madison county next Saturday and Sunday. Mr. C. E. Enterman, of Toledo, was here this week.

—There will be a great sensational drama played at the Christian church Friday and Saturday nights, entitled "The Social Glass, or Victims of the Bottle." The troupe is made up of Dr. Percy Benton, Miss Pearl Newland, Will A. Carson, Miss Lizzie Heron, Ed Newland, J. Thomas Cherry, W. C. Cable, Miss Jennie Reynolds and J. F. Watson. The proceeds are to go to their Sunday-school. They also have a good play for Saturday night, "Out in the Street." The same actors as above, with Misses M. B. and Maud M. Watson added. We judge from the parties that have gotten it up that it will be a first-class entertainment so we ask our people to liberally patronize them, as the proceeds go to a good cause.

MIDDLEBURG, CASEY COUNTY.

—A 12 pound girl arrived at D. G. Elliott's Monday.

—Miss Courtney McWhorter died at Mr. Robert Lankin's Monday. She was buried at the Christian church, Tuesday.

—The band will play for the G. A. R. at Mt. Olive on Decoration day. It is hoped that the boys will fare better than when they went there once before.

—Miss Lou Alcott, of Powers Store, is visiting the family of Mr. D. Royalty. Mrs. Ann Roy, of Perryville, is spending a few days with friends of this section.

—The front Tuesday morning swept everything left by the cut worms and there is a fair prospect for more. Fruit may escape, but the chances are decidedly against it at this writing.

—V. R. Coleman will give the band boys an oyster supper to-morrow, Wednesday night, which promises to be an enjoyable affair. The boys seem to be in clover just now. They will start Thursday to Dunnville on a fishing spree to be absent several days.

—John Wheat was tried before Squire J. A. Wall on the 4th, charged with assaulting his sister-in-law, Mrs. Lizzie Wheat. Mrs. Wheat is the widow of Dudley Wheat, who died some two years ago, and the trouble grew out of a division of Mr. J. W. Wheat's estate. It is claimed the heirs are trying to cheat Mrs. Wheat out of her part of the estate. Some two or three weeks ago, Mr. John Wheat is claimed whipped her, and drove her from the premises, and she swore out a warrant for him and he was arrested by J. W. McWhorter, Jr. He defended his own case at the trial and pleaded not guilty, but the jury thought otherwise and fined him $25. The Commonwealth was represented by County Attorney Q. C. Godly and John Beldon.

In Memory of James C. Carson.

WHEREAS, The Allwise Ruler of the lodge on high has removed from us by death on Saturday, May 11, 1895, our brother, James C. Carson, a worthy member of McKinney Lodge, No. 631, F. and A. M., be it Resolved 1. That our lodge has sustained the loss of a good brother.

2. His family a devoted husband and a kind father.

3. The church a consistent member.

4. The community an honorable citizen.

5. That a copy of these resolutions be sent his bereaved family, a copy spread on the minute books of this lodge and a copy sent to the INTERIOR JOURNAL for publication.

J. H. VANHOOK,
BOWMAN SMITH,

Committee.

LANCASTER, CARRARD COUNTY.

—Dr. W. S. Beazley has arrived and has dental rooms in the Stormes block on Danville street.

—It is rumored that we are to have a wedding in the county soon, but we are not at liberty just yet to tell names.

—The remains of Mr. Eugene Busby, who died in Mt. Sterling last week, were brought to Lancaster and interred in our cemetery Tuesday.

—Miss Carrie Woods has taken rooms with the Misses Tillet on Danville street. Miss Woods, who is an accomplished musician, has a class of 12.

—Continued improvements are noticeable in many Lancaster homes. 22 house painters and paper hangers are busily at work and can't fill the engagements they have.

—The sad news has been received of the very low condition of Mr. James R. Marks, the recent editor of the Central Record, who is held here in such high esteem by his many friends.

—Some of the prisoners at the county jail made their escape Tuesday. W. A. Arnold, the town marshal, over on the alert, pursued the fugitives and after a rapid walk to the toll gate on the Sugar Creek road, captured them.

—The recent heavy frosts following in such quick succession have done great damage to vegetation of all kinds. The gardens, the pride of our citizens, are lying low, having left Jack Frost's icy touch. It is feared much of the fruit is materially injured.

—The Methodist Conference for this district met Tuesday with a goodly number in attendance. The first two days were devoted to Sunday-school work and the last to a review of church work. The presiding elder, Dr. W. N. Vaughan, of Danville, is president of the conference and Rev. W. E. Arnold, of Stanford, secretary.

—Dr. W. S. Vaughan and wife, of Harrodsburg, were guests this week of the Misses Tillet. Miss Nellie Johnson is at home from a lengthy visit to her cone in, Mrs. Sam Hardin, of New Albany. Mrs. Robert Graham has returned to her home at Cynthia, after a short visit to her sister, Mrs. Dr. W. N. Bush. Miss Lizzie Thompson is visiting Miss Katie Lee Yeager, of Boyle. Mr. Ed Price and son, Joe, were visiting relatives in Danville Tuesday. Mr. William Shugars and daughters, Misses Lilly and Bessie, left last week to visit his brother, Mr. John Shugars, and family, of Sharpsburg, Pa. It is the first visit in 25 years that Mr. Shugars has made to his old home. Mrs. J. S. Christian and Miss Tomlinson, of Danville, are guests of Mrs. R. H. Tomlinson. Mrs. Dunn and Miss Cheatham, of Bryantville, visited the Misses Tillet, Wednesday. Miss Miss Ellen Owsley, who has been on a protracted visit to Annapolis, New York and Louisville, has returned home.

LONDON, LAUREL COUNTY.

—H. C. Thompson is improving his property by the addition of a new fence, and not before it was needed.

—Dr. J. L. Williams, of Morehead, who is a candidate for Railroad Commissioner, was in town this week, shaking hands with his friends.

—Circuit court begins Monday. The docket being crowded and the time limited, the judge is compelled to hold court at night, in addition to the day session.

—The contract for the erection of the new M. E. church has been let to Mr. J. C. McKee. The building is to be erected on the site where the old church was burned and is to be a handsome brick structure.

—The cold weather still continues, the thermometer registering away down in the neighborhood of freezing. Wednesday we had rain, snow and sleet. The fruit and vegetation is greatly damaged.

—Miss Mollie Riley is visiting in Richmond this week. Miss Jennie Phillips, of East Bernstadt, is in town. Col. C. Crooke, of Altamont, was in town Monday on business. Mr. Fred Pigg was taken very sick yesterday but is reported some better. Mr. and Mrs. John Bastin, of Pittsburg, are attending the Christian church.

—J. M. Thompson and John Harris, of East Bernstadt, and H. C. Thompson, of this place, were summoned to appear in the U. S. court in Louisville in answer to a petition filed by the receiver of the Altamont Coal Company to annul all the coal leases made by C. Crooke, president of the Altamont Coal Company. Judge Barr decided in favor of the defendants, ruling that the receiver had no right to interfere with the leases.

—A series of meetings are being held at the Christian church by Eld. J. S. Kendrick, of Danville. He is an earnest, forcible speaker, and his meetings are resulting in much good. The mist that has gathered before the people by the preaching of false doctrines, is being cleared away and the gospel is being presented by Brother Kendrick in its primitive beauty and simplicity. Judge Robert Boyd confessed Christ last Friday and was baptized Saturday. Also Senator Ed Parker was re-elected, he having once been a member, but had wandered away. The meeting will probably continue over Sunday.

LIBERTY, CASEY COUNTY.

—Mrs. Mattie McRoberts has opened a millinery shop here and is doing a fine business.

—There is a prospect of having another Fair here this Summer. It will probably come off some time in July.

—Miss Ovie Lee Moore has returned from Junction City and is now visiting around among her friends in this vicinity.

—Neely Northcutt was again tried before a new jury Saturday for carrying concealed weapons and got 10 days in jail and $25 fine.

—Jesse Rivalty, assistant postmaster here and clerk for Mr. J. W. Whipp, went to Louisville Monday, where he will remain one week.

—An Arctic breeze struck this section Monday and on Tuesday morning beans in some gardens looked somewhat dilapidated, but it is hoped that there is not much general damage.

—Mrs. Bettie Moore has the most productive hens in the State. From December up till some time in March she sold 120 dozen eggs, besides a liberal quantity was used in the family.

—Lewis Withers, of Stanford, was here last Wednesday with seven buggies and sold one to Sheriff W. C. Adams, of this place. Starting to Dunnville, he sold old man Kidd one on the way to that place. Lewis is always welcome in Liberty.

—Mr. J. A. Goodell, of Mattoon, Ill., superintendent of the jail building business, is here and is actively pushing matters forward. Mr. Goodell appears not only to understand his business, but is gentleman of culture and has general information on all subjects.

—Great excitement has gotten up in this place in the last few days among children, boys, old men and young, over a new game lately introduced here, with round, polished stones called marbles. It is expected that the craze may reach other parts of the county.

—Oscar and Royal Wilkinson, two of Liberty's most fascinating young men, started in a buggy last Saturday to see their girls at Dunnville. The horse hitched to their vehicle was of a dissipated character and becoming unmanageable, struck off at break neck speed and ran so close to a solid post-and-rail fence that the fence became aggravated and hit the buggy a violent blow, making a first-class wreck of it. We are happy to state, however, that the young gentlemen escaped without any serious injury.

—Since writing the above, George A. Prewitt reports that his garden is ruined by the frost. J. Boyie Stone's garden is also much damaged. Late rains have interfered much with the farmers on the low bottom lands.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—The gifts of the women of the Presbyterian church to home missions from April 1, 1894, to Feb. 1, 1895, were $205.50.

—Southern Baptists will spend $150.00 on foreign missions, of which sum Kentucky is expected to contribute $18.00, the top-notch assessment.

—Rev. Thomas B. Bridges, a Carroll county boy, has been called to the pastorate of a Presbyterian church in Newark, N. J., at a salary of $5,000 a year.

—The organization of the Seventh District Union of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor will be held in Danville on next Saturday and Sunday, May 18 and 19. —Advocate.

—A wealthy Ohio man withdrew from a Middletown, O., Methodist church, to the building of which he had contributed $12,000. He was to have been tried for expulsion under the bankruptcy clause of the church discipline.

—The Baptist convention at Washington calls loudly for more workers in the vineyard. Although there are now over 30,000 Baptist churches in the South, there are 3,000 homeless congregations. Most of these are in the Southwest. In Texas alone there are 1,000 Baptist congregations without shelter. The report also states that there are also in the South 10,000,000 people without the Gospel, and that 2,000 missionaries are needed within the territory. The next convention will be held in Chattanooga. There all the delegates will be entertained free of cost.

—Boiler explosion at Wellsville, N. Y., killed nine and wounded four men.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise. A pure medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove Pimples, Boils, Salt Rheum and other affections caused by impure blood; will drive malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all malarial fevers. For cure of Headache, Constipation and Indigestion, try Electric Bitters. Entire satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Price 50c and $1 per bottle at A. R. Penny's drug store.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 130 Florida St., San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, that without result every thing else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottles at G. L. Penny, Knoxville Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—The severe freeze Saturday night left the gardens in mourning.

—The Maccabees held their regular meeting last Tuesday evening with good attendance.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. Stephens, of Berea, accompanied by Miss Rika Baker visited the old home last week.

—Many ladies are adorning their homes with flowers. Mrs. W. A. Davis has the handsomest collection that we have seen.

—During the absence of Mr. James Maret, on business, W. H. Pettus, of Garrard county, has charge of the railroad office here.

—The numerous friends of the bride were pleased to meet Mr. and Mrs. Yeager, of Bryantville, during their visit here last week.

—The musical, which was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society by "The Colonels" last Thursday evening, was a brilliant success.

—Drs. Brown and Loyell performed a surgical operation on a young man named Thompson last Thursday morning. The injury was the result of a fall.

—Miss Clara Licklighter died May 14 after a brief illness of spinal trouble. Miss Clara was an unusually bright girl and her mourning parents have the sympathy of all in their bereavement.

—While watching her brothers explode caps, Miss Mamie Jones received a painful wound by a piece of broken cap entering her foot. After much suffering the shell was removed and the patient has about recovered.

—Mrs. R. E. Thompson, of Lancaster, is visiting Mrs. Wm. Poynter. Miss Carrie Larr is visiting relatives in Livingston. Mr. and Mrs. Mike McCarty, of Louisville are spending the honeymoon at the Newcomb Hotel. Mrs. Georgie Rice has returned from Lebanon. O. R. G. Williams is out from Centre College. Capt. Spradlin has returned from a trip to Tennessee. Miss Berta Martin attended the musical.

—Miss Ella Joplin is attending school at Bowling Green. Miss Ella has taught with great success for several years, but like all good teachers believes in continual advancement and improvement. If our county possessed many more such teachers it would be an advantage to the tax-payers, for hundreds of dollars are paid to teachers yearly, while hundreds of children are idling away their time at home instead of spending it profitably in the school room.

—We understand that a delegation will leave here Thursday headed by Messrs. C. C. Williams, W. H. Spradlin, James I. White and several others for Rock Castle Springs to confer with Mr. Prescott and his engineers as to the feasibility of having the new railroad run from Mt. Vernon Southward to the lands of the Prescott syndicate. We are confident that this committee will place the matter in such a light that a survey of this route will be ordered at once, and after it is done we have no doubt as to the result, for it is conceded by every person, who has a knowledge of the country that this is by far the best route. Every citizen of Mt. Vernon and this county should do what lies in his power to aid in getting this railroad as it will prove of incalculable value to the county. It will increase the value of land, bring in money and enable the farmers to find ready sale for the products of their farms.

WILLIAMSBURG, WHITLEY COUNTY.

—Snow fell in some parts of the county last Sunday and the frost has done considerable damage to crops and gardens, but the cloudy weather has been a great protection to everything the frost could hurt. The farmers are very much behind with their work on account of the wet weather.

—The republican convention met last Monday and instructed the delegates that go to Louisville to vote for Col. W. O. Bradley for nominee for governor and Wm. Blain, of Bell county, for railroad commissioner for this district. Mr. W. K. Black, of Knox county, candidate for the Legislature, was present and made a speech.

—Circuit court opened Monday with Judge Morrow presiding. The Perry county case of Commonwealth vs. Smith and Adkins was continued by the plaintiff and W. C. Eversole, of Perry, is on trial at the present writing for shooting Fields, who is in the Barbourville jail with a life sentence for killing Judge Combs. Several misdemeanor cases have been tried, but it is not thought any civil business can be reached at this term.

—There are indications of a revival in commercial and financial affairs. It is true. Down in Louisville they tell a story of a man who lost $100,000 in a pork deal. Some one asked him how he stood it. He said: "I didn't mind the loss of the money, but it was the count-down night's sweat it gave me." A night sweat that lasts two years is enough to take the sweat out of any man.

—N. Y. World.

—James River in Virginia was named after James I.; at the first English settlement it was called the "River of the Holy Ghost." The Indians called it Pawathanne, "the river of life."

JAMES FRYE,

HUSTONVILLE, KY.

I have an immense stock of goods now arriving which will revolutionize the retail trade. The prices mentioned below will seem impossible to a great many people but I will pay any one's toll coming to my store and not finding them as I represent them. All of these goods will arrive in the next few days.

CLOTHING !

A good black slicker $1.25, very fine rubber coat $1.50 worth $3. Black cape McIntosh $3.75 worth $5.50. Mens' sandals worth 75c for 45c. Ladies' sandals worth 50c for 35c. Boy's knee pant suits for 65c, $1.10, 1.40, 2.00, 2.50 and 3.50, worth almost double. Mens' and Youth's suits, coat, pants and vest, $2.50 to $7.50, worth $5 to $15. Mens' fine suits, imported goods, elegantly trimmed and tailor made for $12.50 to $15, former price 18 to 25 dollars. These goods are equal to suits that tailors charge double the money for.

DRESS GOODS !

Woolen dress goods in great variety of style and quality and I know that I own them way down below their actual value and will sell them lower than the lowest. Don't buy your dress or silk shirt waist until you see how cheap I will sell them to you. Wash Fabrics I have in all the latest novelties, both in style and color. I have a line of check, striped and figured white goods carried over from last year for half price.

Carpets and Mattings.—My prices on these will surprise you. They are all new, not a single piece of carried over stock.

A Great Bargain.—A black stiff hat, the very latest shaye, for $1.15 worth $3. The sequel—Buy and sell for Cash.

EVERY FRIDAY.

SENATOR LINDSEY'S contribution to the arguments for a sound currency are as convincing as they are unanswerable. He treats the question of free silver coinage as one of pure business and says that sentiment has nothing to do with it whatever. The advocates of it ought therefore to waste no time in talking of the money of the constitution, or the 'rights of silver,' or the demerits of gold in the abstract, and remember that high-flown declamation and self-assumed patriotic fervor have no place in the calm and deliberate consideration of a purely business question. The constitution no more requires the free and unlimited coinage of silver than the free and unlimited enlistment of soldiers, or the continual declaration of war. Silver has been demonetized by the joint action of the business world and can only be restored by like joint action. The United States can not independent of other nations adopt a free coinage silver law without producing a contraction of the currency by expelling gold and under existing conditions a contraction of the currency means bankruptcy and ruin. To await the coming of an international monetary conference is to save the country from the consequences of a contraction that all history teaches will follow the free coinage of legal tender money from a metal inferior in market value to the money metal in use in the world at large. We can not exchange 600 million dollars of gold for 600 million dollars of silver without destroying business and impairing the confidence that is beginning to be restored. Judge Lindsey knocks the props from under Senator Blackburn's untenable position by saying as every thoughtful man must that "the stamp of the government was intended to certify the bullion value of the coin, not to create or add to its value." Kentucky's interest, the Senator says, is solely mercantile and she should deprecate legislation that is intended for the benefit of the silver mine owners, who seek to have 50 cents worth of silver converted into a legal tender dollar. Jefferson treated the question as a mercantile problem and Kentuckians would do well to follow his lead. We wish we had space to publish the admirable interview in full. It is clear and exhaustive and should be read and studied by every Kentuckian.

ALL the leading Confederate and many of the Federal generals and other officers will be present at the dedication of the Confederate monument at Chicago memorial day and the occasion will be a notable one. Fine eaters and men who skulked in the rear, when brave men were battling for the cause they loved, are raising a hue and cry over the "desecration" of memorial day, by such a dedication, but the real fighters of the war which ended 30 years ago, see nothing but brotherly love and reconciliation in the demonstration. The blue and the gray will mingle in re-union and all will love the common country better for this exhibition of fraternity. The South will send many car loads of flowers to decorate the graves of her loved ones, who fell so far away from home, and Chicago's enterprising citizens will do all in their power to make the occasion a memorable one.

THE outrageous verdict of acquittal in the Shipp murder case at Lexington caused a number of preachers there to inveigh against the lax administration of justice in their sermons Sunday and to deplore the cheapness in which human life is held in Kentucky. Dr. Bolling was the most outspoken and said that the judge or jury, which failed to punish such crimes as Shipp's, is an enemy to society. The pulpit and press should work in unison in the effort to put down crime by punishing it in the most condign manner and no opportunity should be lost to force its attention on the people.

EVIDENTLY believing that as Kentucky goes so will go the union on the silver question. President Cleveland is said to be watching with great interest the trend of sentiment in Kentucky. It looks very much now like the free silver lunatics will capture the convention, but it is to be hoped that better judgment will prevail and that the State will not be committed to a policy so ruinous as would be free and unlimited silver coinage independent of the action of other nations.

It is said that at Ottumwa, Ia., Sunday, the reformed base ball player, Billy Sunday, had 500 men weeping at one time during his sermon. No wonder. The angels must have wept at such a spectacle. A base ball player in a pulpit is apparently as much out of place as a preacher would be in a base ball box.

THE Covington Commonwealth thinks that the unpunished shedding of blood in Kentucky is doing vastly more to prevent the development of her resources by foreign capital than so-called inimical legislation. People are afraid to come to a State, where seven murders have occurred in a month—and the men who committed them have, in every case in which a trial has been held, been acquitted, including Shipp, who killed the husband of his negro mistress in the man's own house. When the slaver of his fellowman is held accountable and feels the strong arm of the law fastening the hemp about his neck, then Kentucky may hold up to the world her resources and meet with the return her riches and the rightful value at which she holds human life entitle her to expect.

THE idea of getting something "free" is very taking to the masses and that is why "free silver" is so popular. A great many people really believe that if a free coinage bill is passed money will come to them without effort and they will have it to throw to the birds. Free silver, free turnpikes, free lunch and free whiskey sound mighty nice to the impetuous and unthinking, who would just as quickly vote for free hotels and free railroads. To get something for nothing seems to be the great desideratum of a large majority of the human family.

JUDGE M. J. DURHAM, of Lexington, writes to request us to reproduce Senator Lindsey's masterful interview on the currency question, adding that it is unanswerable and the people want to be informed on the question. We would do so with pleasure, but for its great length. A synopsis is all that a paper of this size can give such a lengthy interview, as much as we would like to publish it.

COL. BRADLEY will be nominated for governor without opposition and by acclamation, as we predicted six months ago. Already 803 votes have been instructed for him and but 678 are necessary for a choice. If he could make his election as easily as he has his nomination, he would sail into the gubernatorial mansion on flowery beds of ease, but there's the rub. We'll meet him at Phillippi.

THE convention to nominate a democratic candidate for railroad commissioner in the Owensboro district is in session in that city, and seems to think that the welfare of the country depends upon its action on the silver question. That district is a hot bed of populists and we may expect a declaration for free silver and everything else free.

—Little Josie Leatherman, of Goshen, Ind., became entangled in the rope of a swing in such a manner as to get it twisted about her neck so tightly that she was strangled to death.

—The grand encampment of the G. A. R. will be held in Louisville this year, and there is a movement on foot to have the republican National Convention held in New Orleans next year.

—At Loveland, O., Frank Hill and George Myers collided while going at full speed on their bicycles, fracturing each other's skulls. Both are unconscious and not expected to live.

—It is now said that the decision of the Supreme court will be 6 to 3 against the income tax law, and the Administration would not shed any tears over sending the bill along with the tide.

—Col. Rice, of New York, and John Harlow, of St. Louis, have been appointed civil service commissioners by President Cleveland. The board is now composed of two democrats and one republican.

—Two men met on the street in Noblesville, Ind. They had always been friends. Without a word of warning one shot the other dead. The murderer explained that the victim had insulted his wife.

—The 25,000 employees of the Carnegie Steel Company have been notified of a voluntary increase of 10 per cent. in wages. The Bellaire Nail Company, of Bellaire, O., announces a voluntary increase of 15 per cent.

—The small-pox patient under quarantine at the Winchester post-house is dead. His body was interred in the field near the house. The inmates of the jail that were exposed to the disease are in a state of terror.

—Investigation is being made into the death of Edward Irving Darling, the composer, who in ante mortem statement declared he had been slowly poisoned to death by his wife, who, after his death, married the doctor.

—Lee Gattis, colored, visited the residence of Rev. Harrison Nutter, a colored preacher, at Cynthiana, and made an indecent proposal to his wife. Her rejection of the advances of Gattis so enraged him that he drew his knife and stabbed her 12 times. She died within three hours.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Frank Hale and wife were burned to death at Midland, Mich., on the night following their marriage.

—William Bateman, a Wyoma, W. Va., desperado, shot his wife because she refused to give him money to buy whiskey with.

—Barney Kilburg and Miss Sallie Goepp, both Germans from the Otterheim section, were married at Crab Orchard yesterday.

—Down in Georgia a father pursued his daughter, who was eloping with a young man. He was about to capture the girl, when the lover shot him dead, and went on further and married her.

—Miss Bigley, until a year ago a trained nurse at Dubuque, Iowa, hospital, is to be married to Lord Arthur Hopburn at Los Angeles, Cal. The Lord is said to own large estates in England and New Zealand.

—When John Wilson, of Portsmouth, O., applied for his marriage license he was informed that he would have to pay a fee of $5 for a temporary guardian to consent to the union as he was under 21. He thought over the matter and sensibly decided that rather than go to that expense he would wait a year or so.

—The wooden wedding, tin wedding, crystal wedding, silver wedding, golden wedding and diamond wedding have all been knocked out. Mr. and Mrs. Szathmari, of Zombolya, Hungary, have just celebrated the hundredth anniversary of their marriage. The bride is 116 years of age and the groom one year older.

—There were 7,747 murders in the country last year and only 112 executions. Is it any wonder that there is a growing contempt for law?—Peoria Her-ald.

—Florence Nightingale is celebrating her 75th birthday in London. Half a century ago her voice was the wonder of the world.

Present Modes Encourage Individuality in Dress.

The Extremely Wide Skirt Is Not Having Things All Its Own Way—Expensive Dress Fabrics—The Proper Parasol for Summer.

[Special Chicago Letter.]

There is a certain amount of beauty, and reasonableness too, in the present modes when a costume is taken as a whole; although its various parts, considered separately, would not, I fear, deserve such praise. The enormous ruffles round every neck are in reasonable proportion when considered in connection with the extreme width of the new skirts, and in combination with the latter the balloon sleeves do not look the monstrosities they really are. There is another pleasing feature in the fashions of the hour, and one, I am sure, which will recommend itself. They can be altered and modified by the skillful and artistic dressmaker so as to suit each individual style and figure. That this commendable feature is not taken advantage of at present can be noticed in any assemblage of fashionably dressed women. And right here I am led to remark what a pity it is that more women, and especially those with both time and money at command, do not study themselves carefully and suit their gowns to their own peculiar figure. Then we would not see the fat sister and the slender one wearing sleeves cut from the same pattern, nor the little woman and the large one dressed precisely alike, the only variation perhaps being in the mere matter of color.

Dressmakers who have just returned from Paris loaded down with novelties for a large and exclusive clientele inform me that all skirts seen there are wide, but that no two houses design them alike or stiffen them alike. The whole matter of skirts is, after all, one of individual taste and income. There will be quite as many skirts worn measuring only five yards at the hem as there will be of those that flare to eight or ten yards, and those worn last year will not be too old-fashioned for this season's use. I am assured on the highest authority that no stiffening will be used in the skirts of summer gowns. They are cut close fitting about the hips and fall in delightfully soft folds in the back from waist to hem. Now that winter wraps are a thing of the past, numerous jaunty and chic tailor-made gowns have put in an appearance. I saw a handsome young woman exploiting the charms of such a gown this morning on State street, and I followed her quite two blocks in order to note every detail of her frock. The coat and skirt were of Venetian cloth, green in color but very subdued in tone. The very short coat with gullets in the back opened over a front of cream-tinted tulle, and had a broad collar faced with white cloth bordered with Persian embroidery. The skirt, which was very fully gored, showed strappings of white cloth veiled under embroidery, and the deep, white cloth cuffs turned back on the sleeves were given a similar finish, while round the neck was a ruche of pale pink roses tied with broad satin ribbon. It was a beautiful gown beautifully worn, and, although imported, it would not be hard to copy. Other pretty tailor-made gowns I have seen this season are in plain tweed, mostly in gray or blue, with full skirts, of course, and the new basque bodice cut very short and made to set outward. This latter, by the way, is a very smart little garment when buttoned, double-breasted, and with very large Dresden china buttons. But it must be well cut, and well-fitting, and only adopted by the woman of slim and trim outlines.

The most popular dress material so far this season, and one I have mentioned in a former letter, is crepon.

Indeed, so far is this craze for crinkled effects carried, that merchants have great difficulty in supplying the demand, even at what seems an exorbitant figure, for you must understand that a good piece of silk crepon cannot be bought under less than five dollars per yard. Black seems to be favored above any color, although I have seen some lovely gowns made up in the new shade of green, and also in various blues and grays. I have in mind, more particularly, a dainty frock in an exquisite shade of tan, with trimmings of velvet, golden brown in color, the overhanging vest in pale yellow chiffon, beautifully spangled.

Next in popularity to crepon are the soft, pretty taffetas. These silks make a most stylish gown, and a very inexpensive one too when their wearing qualities are taken into consideration. The prettiest of these silks by all odds come in an entirely new coloring called Madagascan. This new tint is a unique reddish yellow that shades into a lovely deep brown. Some have perfectly plain grounds while others have delicately tinted chine blossoms showing amid narrow black stripes. One of the daintiest gowns I have seen this season is shown in the picture. It is of deep blue taffeta with chine flowers of pale pink trailing over its surface. The skirt is very wide, made without stiffening and given a lining throughout of coral pink taffeta. The waist has a front of chiffon, and is shirred in tucks at the upper portion over a lining of pink satin. A chie finish is given to this bodice by a little jacket arrangement of applique fastened with an immense bow of satin ribbon. I might remark, en passant, that the ribbon bow placed on the front of the corsage is very up to date, and all the new gowns, whether they hail from London, Berlin or Paris, boast them.

Haircloth at a dollar or more a yard makes quite an interesting item in our dressmaker's bill this season. The price of this material seems to have increased with its popularity. I had almost said necessity, and just as the economical little woman was on the verge of despair some genius so thoughtful as he was enterprising put on the market a rather economical material for swelling sleeves and extending skirts which, many modistes claim, will keep its normal position under the most crushing circumstances. If all that is claimed for this fabric is true woman-kind will rise up and call the inventor blessed.

The lawn collars and cuffs, tucked, trimmed with lace and elaborated with fanciful stitching, are the idols of the hour. A half dozen sets are none too many to buy if one wants to appear with them always fresh and clean.

I must not forget to mention the dainty collars of ribbon and the lace fronts that will be worn with our new spring frocks and will also freshen and rejuvenate old gowns that have been worn all winter, giving them quite a springlike air.

Noire, chiffon, lace and taffeta are the fabrics of new parasols. The gracefully arched frames of last year reappear and the sticks are of natural wood or white enamel and are finished with carved ivory or Dresden balls or else with large bronze knobs. Like in days of dear grandmamma, they are gathered together by a ring instead of being allowed to hang loose or held in place by a bit of ribbon, as was the style last season. Elaborate parasols for carriage use are of white chiffon in many soft puffs and ruffles, with white enameled sticks and a thin silken lining of pale yellow, soft pink or other becoming color. Black lace covers are again fashionable, and the fancy of the moment is to mount them on black or colored chiffon, the latter forming a puff and full double ruffle below the scalloped edge of the lace. Gayly-plaided parasols are among the novelties. With a plaid costume they are very fetching, but ladies of quiet taste prefer for the promenade one of the plain but elegant taffeta parasols, either in small all-over designs or in very narrow stripes of two colors. A rosette of lace or chiffon or a small bunch of flowers decorates the top of almost every parasol, and quite as often as not the handle is ornamented in a similar manner. KATE GARDNER.

Wood Pavement in London. The new tower bridge is paved with the wood of the eucalyptus tree from Australia. The blocks are about the size of building bricks and their top surface has beveled edges, thus affording horses a foothold. They are fastened together by pegs put through them and fitted into corresponding holes in the adjoining blocks. This wood is a dark mahogany color, is very expensive, but heavy and durable. It was laid according to the Duffy patent system with special machinery. Wood is replacing stone pavement in many of the London streets, but in them it is laid in a simpler and less costly manner.

New Automatic Air Brake. An English inventor by the name of Roberts has invented an automatic air brake in which the weight of the train supplies the power to set the brakes.

Example for the United States. In Albania the men wear petticoats and the women trousers. The women do all the work and their husbands attend to the heavy standing around.

No Escape. Mrs. Getthere (enthusiastic worker at church fair)—Now, Mr. Slimpurse, you really must take a chance in this beautiful pipe; you really must. Just think, the pipe is worth twenty dollars, and the chances are only one dollar each. Mr. Slimpurse (edging off)—Very sorry, madam, but I don't smoke. Mrs. Getthere—Oh, but you can learn, you know. Mr. Slimpurse—Tobacco does not agree with me. I would have no earthly use for a pipe. Mrs. Getthere (struck with a bright idea)—Well, there isn't the slightest probability of your drawing it, you know.—N. Y. Weekly.

A Well Known Man. "I would like these poems published in book form," said a seely-looking man to a New York publisher. "I will look them over, but I can tell you now I only publish the books of literary men whose names are well known." "Then you will publish my poems, for my name is known wherever the English tongue is spoken." "Ah, indeed; what is your name?" "John Smith."—Texas Siftings.

In Doubt. The lady from Chicago. Let fall a pearly tear. "I wonder what man's wife I'll be," She softly sighed, "next year!"—Judge.

Why do you tell me such awful stories? They make my hair stand on end!" "That's why, sir!—makes it easier to cut."—Pall Mall Budget.

Swift Retribution. The sultan pledged his wine. "By Allah! 'Tis a foretaste of celestial nectar!" The vizier held his glass up to the light. "It is indeed!" He smacked his lips— "Most sublime port!" An instant later he was led away for the bowstring and the sack.—N. Y. World.

Seasonable Precaution. "By the way, Uncle Cyrus," said the hostess, pouring the tea, "when you were in Italy did you ever see the natives making macaroni?" "Often," replied Uncle Cyrus. "Jamea," whispered the lady, "I think you'd better not help Uncle Cyrus to any macaroni."—Chicago Tribune.

After Dinner Speech. Master of the House (on his fiftieth birthday, to his guests)—Ladies and gentlemen, this day fifty years ago, when I first saw the light of this world—um—I did not for a moment anticipate—or anticipate that I should see so numerous and—um—so distinguished a company gathered around me.—Deutsche Warte.

The Worst of It. "Matrimony is a game of cards, with the chances all one way," she observed, after deep thought. "Yes?" "Yes. A woman has a heart, and a man takes it with a diamond, and after that her hand is his, and, besides, he can beat her with a club."—Detroit Tribune.

Acquired Dumbness. Jaggs—Is Blobs dumb in his own house? Jaggs—Practically so. Jaggs—What's the matter? Jaggs—He promised his wife he would always listen when she talked.—Detroit Free Press.

Limited. Patient (about to have his leg removed, cheerfully)—Well, doctor, I'm afraid that I won't be able to go to any more dances. Dr. Knife—No. After this you'll have to confine yourself to hops.—N. Y. World.

The Voice of Triumph. Mrs. Kidby—Oh, John dear, don't you hear? How delightfully the baby crows? Kidby—Crows? Humph! I'd crow myself if I were boss of the house!—Harper's Bazar.

Thoughtlessly Frank. "I suppose you will be out again tonight," remarked Sportington's wife, severely. "I will," he replied with feeling, "unless I manage to hold better hands than I got last night."—Washington Star.

Logical Tommy. Mother—If you are not good, Tommy, papa won't kiss you any more. Tommy—Yes, papa will kiss me if I'm not good. You said the cook was no good and papa kissed her when you were away yesterday.—Texas Siftings.

Did He Fall Dumb. Jinks—I despise a man who is mean with his wife. Do you give yours an allowance, or what she can wheedle out of you? Filkins—Both.—Tidbits.

Fraternally Strife. Mother (looking into room)—What's Frankie crying for? Willy—He's crying for my cake. Mother—The little pig! What did he do with the one I gave him? Willy—Oh, I ate his up first!—Puck.

Dehorn Your Cattle.

I will go to any place where there are six or more cattle to dehorn. I do the work with the Lightning Dehorner. Can dehorn any cow in three seconds. The knife makes a clean, smooth cut, does not crush or break the horn, as the clipper does. It is the only humane way to dehorn. Does not punish the animal like the saw, and the wound gets well as quick again as that made by the saw. For further information, call on G. A. PRYTON, Stanford, Ky. See the Lightning Pruning Hook.

THIEVES attempted to get into Sheriff T. D. Newland's meat house Wednesday night and succeeded in breaking the lock, but were evidently frightened off. Mr. Newland thinks, by the crying of his last horn, whom he got up to see to and made a fight.

JAILED.—Marshal Frank Ellis' examining trial for the killing of young Murphy at Junction City, has been continued till May 25, until which time Ellis will stay in jail. Col. W. G. Welch and Judge R. J. Breckinridge have been engaged to defend him.

THE removal of Judge T. L. Shelton from the post-office at Rowland was caused by a defect in his bond. The matter was remedied by executing another bond worth $50,000 and the order of removal was suspended. There was no charge of irregularity nor complaint as to the judge's management of the office.

SHERMAN BRUCE and Howard Deatherage, the darkeys who engaged in a shooting affray at Moreland, had their examining trial before Judge Davison Tuesday. Bruce was discharged and Deatherage was held over to circuit court in $100, which he could not give. It was proved that Deatherage fired four shots before Bruce shot at all.

JIMMY W. R. CARSON has become an inventor and hopes to be a millionaire yet. He has invented a tricycle that promises to eclipse the bicycle both in speed and ease of propulsion and he claims a most useful means of transit. It is very simple and easy of construction and the wonder is that somebody hadn't thought of it before. The judge has just built a scroll saw and stand also which is a marvel of ingenuity and perfection.

THE new time card, now in effect on the Cincinnati Southern, has a number of changes. The local vestibule only runs out as far as Junction City now, arriving there at 11:35 a. m. and returning at 1:35 p. m., giving ample time for the Cincinnati connection from this point. The New Orleans Limited passes Junction City at 11:48 a. m. South and 3:35 p. m. North, the Q. & C. Special at 12:15 a. m. South and 3:15 a. m. North. There is no change in the arrival and departure of the accommodation, otherwise known as the Blue Grass vestibule.

A FELLOW, whom Chester J. J. McRoberts did not know, went into the First National court day last and drawing a silver dollar from his pocket told the banker that he had given it to him and it was counterfeit. Mr. McRoberts took the coin and seeing that it was good dropped it in the drawer and gave the man another. Then the fellow pretended to discover that he had given the cashier the wrong dollar, but Mr. McK. said one was all he could redeem, as one was all claimed, and the fellow departed beaten at his own game.

FIFTEEN States have felt the effect of the present unusually cold wave, and while there has been much damage to vegetables and fruits, the amount is probably over estimated. Here only the tenderer vegetables have been killed. The heavy foliage protected the fruit buds and a heavy rain following the frost, the damage was considerably lessened. Squire Murphy says that the snap will cause many apple buds to fall, but they are so numerous that two-thirds might be lost and then there would be a full crop of apples. The mercury was down to 30° here, and besides four frosts, ice formed to a considerable thickness. A very heavy rain fell all day Wednesday and that night, but the clouds lifted yesterday and there were indications that the back bone of blackberry winter had been dislocated, if not entirely broken.

Snow fell in a number of places in Kentucky, Wednesday. The nearest approach to it here was a pretty dense hail storm for a few moments.

SUPR. OF SCHOOLS.—The McClarys not caring to contest for the superintendent's place, Judge Davison has, we learn, tendered the position to Miss Kate Blain. As this worthy young lady holds a first-class certificate and has taken much interest in educational matters, there is no doubt about her passing the requisite examination.

TURN OVER TO THE LADIES.—Tuesday next, May 21, A. B. Robertson & Bro., Danville, will turn their store over to the "Loyal Circle of King's Daughters." These ladies assisted by their friends will run the entire store, doing all the selling. A considerable portion of the day's sales will be contributed to the Chapel Fund of the First Presbyterian church of Danville. They will also serve refreshments in the store. Everybody solicited to come and help the ladies do a good business in their first day behind the counter.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

—MARRIAGE.—It is with deep regret that we chronicle the death of Mr. James R. Marre, founder and for 20 or more years the editor of the Danville Advocate, which occurred at his home in Danville yesterday. Gentle as a woman, exceedingly careful of the feelings and rights of others, we do not suppose that he leaves an enemy or acquaintance, who will not sorrow over his death. The lateness of the hour that we received news of the death, precludes an extended notice as will appear in our next issue. The burial will occur at Danville Saturday.

—MR. JOHN M. REID, after a long, useful and honorable career, sleeps with his fathers. For a long time he had been in bad health and for the last year his death has been expected. It came at 7 o'clock Monday night—the immediate cause being heart failure. Deceased was a son of John W. Reid, who came of good old Virginia stock, and was born in the West End of Lincoln in 1823. Of the seven children, Mrs. Amanda McMurtry, Mrs. Dr. F. S. Read and Samuel and William Reid survive. After receiving a good education, Mr. Reid gave his attention to farming and was a most successful one. In 1854, he married Miss Bettie Hays and to them five children were born, all of whom are living. They are Dr. Hugh Reid, Mrs. Fannie Jones, James C. Reid, Mrs. Mary Foster and Mrs. Bessie McKinney. Mrs. Reid died in 1881 at the age of 51. A man of sterling integrity and honest in all his dealings, Mr. Reid was a latter day exemplar of the gentleman of the old school. Always neat in appearance, a perfect Chesterfield in manners and dignified in bearing, he was universally respected and admired. The children have lost a fond and loving father, the community an excellent citizen and the democratic party one of its strongest and most faithful adherents, and all unite in genuine sorrow. Many friends and relatives followed the remains to Buffalo Cemetery at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, where after a short service, they were tenderly laid by the wife, for whose death he never ceased to grieve.

Mr. Reid left a good estate, which will be equally divided among his children, all of whom were present at the burial except Mrs. Breckinridge Jones, of St. Louis, who a few days ago gave birth to her third child and second daughter.

Among Mr. Reid's papers this scrap in his own writing was found: "I was initiated in the secrets of Free and Accepted Masons in Hustonville lodge in the year 1848 or '49. I demitted from that lodge about the close of the civil war and helped to establish a new lodge in Stanford. After affiliating with the brethren for quite a number of years (in the mean time served as Master) I demitted in good standing, A. R. Penny being Master of the lodge at that time."

J. M. REID.

—A long life devoted to those she loved came peacefully to an end yesterday morning at 5 o'clock, when Mrs. Hannah M., wife of Capt. Geo. H. McKinney, breathed her last. She had been paralyzed for over a year, becoming more and more so till her tongue and throat refused to do her bidding and she literally starved to death. Along in the beginning of this century, three sturdy brothers, John, William and Joseph Paxton, came to Kentucky from Rockbridge county, Va., and settled. Mrs. McKinney was the last survivor of nine children, born to the third mentioned, and she was 77 years old, being two days younger than her husband who survives her. Her mother died and her father married the widow McKinney. Capt. McKinney was her son, so Mrs. McKinney and her husband were step-brother and sister. They had known each other for 65 years and had been married 50, and those who know tell us that no couple ever lived in greater love and affection. To them six children were born, four of whom survive, A. A., J. I. and W. G. McKinney and Mrs. Will Royston. Mrs. McKinney was a second cousin of Gov. Sam Huston, of Texas, and the other distinguished men of that name were closely related to her. At an early age Mrs. McKinney united with the Presbyterian church and her whole life was a demonstration of the lines: "Tis religion that can give sweetest pleasures while we live." A good woman in every respect, she was loved by all who knew her and idolized by her husband and children. Truly can it be said of her: "She did what she could" and henceforth a crown of righteousness will be hers.

The funeral services will be held at the residence at 10 o'clock this, Friday, morning by Revs. B. Helm and S. M. Logan, and then the remains will be taken to Buffalo Spring Cemetery and laid to rest.

—DIED near Hustonville, May 11, Jas. C. Carson, aged 38 years. He leaves a wife and four children, besides his father and mother, one brother and sister, eight of the family having preceded him to the better land. His father being a worthy minister of the Methodist church. All was done for his recovery that medical skill could accomplish, assisted by the ceaseless nursing of a devoted wife. He became a member of the Methodist church in early life. Through most of these years the writer has known him as a devout Christian. He enjoyed the confidence and love of all his neighbors. By his request, the writer officiated on the occasion of his funeral service in the Christian church at Hustonville, and his pure, Christian life and bright hope down to his last hour, enabled us to speak in full assurance, of the certainty of his admission into our Father's heavenly home. W. L. Williams.

—MR. L. E. CULBERTSON, who married Miss Kate Huffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Huffman, of Hustonville, died at his home in Covington this week. The wife and three children survive him.

—Mrs. J. H. BAILLARD died at her father's, Mr. Logan Murphy, Wednesday, of consumption. She lived in Washington county and came up on a visit several weeks ago. Her remains were interred in Buffalo Cemetery yesterday.

—WILLIAM D. SNOW, a prominent stock trader of Boyle, died Wednesday evening of inflammation of the bowels.

CARD OF THANKS.—I desire to thank from the bottom of my heart those who were so kind to me in my late bereavement. While my troubles have been almost greater than I could bear they have been assuaged not a little by the genuine sympathy and kindly assistance extended me. Mrs. Lizzie Hocker.
